Message from Our Senior Minister

Wholeness is an intuitively clear concept. We spontaneously recognize when something is complete. When something has all its parts functioning in their proper place, we declare it to be whole and complete. I recently assembled a metal and canvas gazebo for the patio in my backyard at home. A friend and I took about three hours to assemble the basic metal frame. At that point it could stand by itself.

After that it was not too difficult for me to complete. Over the next two evenings I was able to add first the metal superstructure and then the two canvas tops. Air circulates freely between the two tops. Altogether I counted 39 parts and 77 bolts.

Sometimes we have a diagram or blueprint for what we wish to complete. Sometimes we do not. I find it much easier to put things together correctly and thus ensure their wholeness, if I have pattern to work from.

When we do our spiritual work, we often do not see a pattern for what we are trying to accomplish. At least at first we do not. What does right relationship to God look like? What do joy, health, peace, and harmonious relationships look like? Where are the patterns for each? When we learn to look more deeply into our selves through meditation and affirmative prayer, we discern those patterns. When we formulate affirmations and visualizations, we establish the mental and spiritual images of what we desire to accomplish.

When I assembled the gazebo for our patio, I could see how each stage brought me closer to completing the whole.. Now there is a difference between assembling a back yard patio cover and doing spiritual work. The primary difference, in my experience, is that our spiritual work both reveals wholeness right where we are and remains always a work in progress. As we attain a new depth of awareness, a whole new vista of possibility arises. As we progress in spiritual practice, we see wholeness on ever deeper levels. We see all to be the handiwork of Spirit. Our whole reality unfolds with no end in sight.

What a joyful prospect! May it be ever so in you and in me, in all Its perfection.

Remeber when doing spiritual practice, each of us is an important part of the consciousness which grows our spiritual community

Our Center grows as each of us reveals our personal wholeness. We attract those who seek to express their wholeness in concert with our community of faith.

SUNDAY CELEBRATIONS

The theme for the month of July is
"Revealing Wholeness"

July 1 -- Rev Maur-- "Healing As A Revelation," Rev Maur will explore how meditation and spiritual mind healing impact our lives and even change the way our brains function. Healing opens us to greater freedom. Susan Brakeall and Mark Pearson will provide music.

July 8 -- Rev Julie -- "Our Healer." Rev Julie will pull back the curtain of illusion to reveal the true healer of all. Susan Brakeall and Mark Pearson will provide music.

July 15 -- Rev Don -- "The Consciousness that Heals." Rev Don will open us to the personal perception of inner truth that lies at the center of our individuality. Randy Byrnes and Jeff Icovino will provide music.

July 22 -- Rev Linda Finley -- "Let us Not Fool Ourselves. " Rev Linda will explore how to avoid performing a spiritual bypass on yourself. Darcy Schmitt and Brent Gjevre will provide music.

July 29 -- Matt Jones -- "Create Your Brightest Future." Matt will help you discover how to boost your prosperity consciousness, experience a new level of happiness, get clarity on your life's purpose and connect with your inner passion. Blaine Moody and Annie Cornely will provide music.

Garden Party Clean up and Pizza on Saturday,
July 7
From 9:30 to Noon

We will build on what we accomplished last month. Come join us as we work outdoors to improve our meditation garden and grounds. We have some basic tools, and you may bring your own if you like - rake, a hoe, clippers and definitely gloves. We will break about noon for pizza and soda before leaving. Come when you can, all efforts are appreciated. You don't need to have registered ahead. Join those who have.

Spiritual Living Circle
Tuesday, July 10
6:00 pm at Helen McCann's Home

Our second monthly circle will meet at Helen HcCann's home. About a dozen people enjoyed meeting at Robyn and Brian's home on June 19. Discussion was lively and centered around sharing spiritual experiences and reflections on themes from the monthly Science of Mind magazine. People really enjoyed the ice cream bars. The purpose of "Woodland Chapel's Spiritual Living Circle" is to provide us and our friends with rich material to explore. We find new ways to connect with one another and deepen our spiritual experiences. If interested, please add your name to the "Intention to Attend" sheet on the Community Matters table.

INTRODUCTION TO SPIRITUAL LIVING
SUNDAY, JULY 15
12:30 TO 1:30 PM

Explore your personal spiritual tradition. See what Science of Mind offers. Learn more about being a member of our faith community and becoming more truly the spiritual being you are.

This conversation is open to members, guests and visitors.

ALL ARE WELCOME TO ATTEND EACH EVENT

Last Month's Rummage Sale was a great success. We had many buyers. We cleared $1,000 for our building fund and a congregant matched that amount on the next Sunday!

Our Building Fund

We now have over $5,500 in our building fund. Our first project is expected to cost about $14,000. We plan to redo the flat roof before fall rains start.

Every donation helps. Give what seems right to you. Maybe $5, $20, $50, $100 or even a $1,000 or more.

We can do it!

Science of Mind Treatment I am Whole!

There is One, Infinite, Loving Presence. It goes by many names: Spirit, Love, Energy, God, All powerful. It is completely and wholly present everywhere. It creates all that appears and holds all in It's loving embrace. .

I know that I am an expression of that One. I am an emanation of the Infinite. I stand in Its loving Presence as a manifestation of Its very substance. There is within me a whole and complete image of my spiritual self.

I declare my word right here and right now. I am whole. I am complete. I am healthy. I am healed. Any apparent discord or discord dissolves. There is nothing that can separate me from the Infinite Love that is God. I accept the flow of Divine Goodness. I feel it moving in me. I know Divine Wholeness operates through me. All my affairs are arranged in divine right Order. All that is mine, comes to me. All that does not belong to me, leaves me. All is accomplished in ease and grace.

I give thanks for the Presence of the One in Its Entirety right where I am. I am grateful that my life exudes harmony and integrity.

I release my word into the Universal Law of Love, knowing it is brought back to me multiplied and overflowing. What I know for myself, I know for my family, my friends, my Center, and for all beings everywhere.

And So It is.
